

Usability Testing Script for WorldPride.org Navigation: Understanding the Content Seeking Journey of Users

DRAFT—PORTFOLIO DEMO ONLY

Recommended number of participants: 10-12

Expected duration: 10-15 minutes

1. Introduction & Warm-Up

Interviewer: "Thank you for helping us test the navigation experience of the WorldPride website. This isn't a test of your abilities—there are no right or wrong answers! We just want to understand how people naturally explore the site to find event information and learn about the Pride365 app. As you go through the tasks, please think out loud so we can hear your thought process."

2. Scenario-Based Tasks

Task 1: Finding Event Information

Interviewer: "Imagine you're attending WorldPride and want to find details about a specific event that interests you. You visit worldpride.org. What would you do first?"

(Provide link to worldpride.org. Let the user navigate freely, then follow up based on their actions.)

- "What made you choose this path?"
- "Did anything feel confusing or unexpected?"
- "Was there anything missing that would have made this process easier?"

Task 2: Discovering the Pride365 Mobile App

Interviewer: "The WorldPride event has a mobile app called Pride365, which lets attendees bookmark, save, and plan their itinerary. If you were looking for information about the app on this website, where would you expect to find it?"

(Allow exploration and follow up.)

- "What did you notice about how the app is presented?"
- "Would you have found it on your own?"
- "What kind of wording would make you click a link to download the app?" (Examples could include: "Plan Your Pride Itinerary," "Save Events in One Click," "Your Personalized WorldPride Guide.")

3. Follow-Up Questions

Interviewer: "Now that you've explored the site, what stood out to you? Did anything feel frustrating? Was there anything that made navigation easier?"

(If they struggled, ask:)

- "If this were redesigned to make event and app info easier to find, what improvements would you suggest?"

4. Wrap-Up & Thank You

Interviewer: "Thank you for your time! Your feedback is invaluable in helping us refine the WorldPride experience. If you have any final thoughts, we'd love to hear them."
